

December Book Cafe

Crimson Lake by Candice Fox
(Australian thriller)
★★★★★

What happened by Hillary Clinton

(Non-fiction) ★★★★★

The watchmaker of Filigree Street
by Natasha Pulley (Magical realism) ★★★★★

The Bedlam stacks by Natasha Pulley (Magical realism) ★★★★★

The hero maker by Stephen Dando-Collins (Biography) ★★★★★

The midnight line by Lee Child (Thriller) ★★★★★ [lost one star as Jack Reacher needs to smarten up]

The housekeeper and the professor by Yoko Ogawa (Fiction for maths fans) ★★★★★

The grid by Philip Kerr (Suspense)
★★★★★

The thirst by Jo Nesbo (Thriller)
★★★★★

STAFF READS

Riddle of the sands by Erskine

Childers (Historical mystery) ★★★★★

The pearl sister by Lucinda Riley

(Family saga) ★★★★★

Looking for Alaska by John Green

(Young adult fiction) ★★

Thin air by Ann Cleeves (Shetland mystery series) ★★★★★

The silent dead by Claire McGowan (Thriller) ★★★★★

After the fire by Jane Casey

(Mystery) ★★★★★

Here comes the sun by Nicole Dennis-Benn (Contemporary Jamaican fiction)

★★★★★

The Quality of Silence by Rosamund Lipton (Wilderness thriller) ★★★★★

Peas & Queues by Sandi Toksvig

(Non-fiction—etiquette) ★★★★★

December 2017